MEN AND THINGS ABOUT TOWN

Schuetzen Fest to the White House Friday evening he met Colonel Lamout in the vestibule. "Mrs. Cleveland and myself were very much amused this afternoon," said the President, "by two persons bearing the same name as yours." There was no time for explanations, as dinner was ready and the public were anxious to shake hands with the President, and it was not until the following day that the Colonel learned the meaning of the President's remark. By a coincidence the trapezo performers, a man and a woman who had "skinned the cat," hung head downwards and made the run for life holding by a leather thong between the teeth, bore the same name as the genial private secretary at the White House. were very much amused this afternoon, Paseball has taken deep root in high places as well as low, and nothing is talked of now but combinations from day to day of now but combinations from day to day during the absence of the Nationals from the city. One of the most ardent admirers of the National game is Judge John Davis of the Court of Claims, and it is rarely that he misses a contest at Capitol Park. There have been no games played here, however, for the past two weeks, and in order to keep up interest in the sport combinations are made daily by the patrons of the game, and it seems Mr. Davis has caught the epidemic. One of his cards bearing the inscription, Judge John Davis, United States Court of Claims, 1211 Connecticut avenue, was presented at a pool room down town Saturday, and the clubs that the Judge pinned his faith on were Chicagos, Kansas Citys, Bostons and New Yorks. He guessed only two out of the four, however, for Boston and Kansas City were conquered instead of conquerers.

It may seem ungallant, but nevertheles ttention should be called to the selfishnes of women in street cars. After the matine Saturday a scene was witnessed in a Belt Line car which deserves censure, and the directors of the road should see to it that such complaints be remedied at once. Three well-dressed women, who had sat for two hours in comfortable seats at the National Theatre, boarded the car in question, each conveying two children. The little ones spread all over both sides of the car and the fond mothers spread out their skirts and settled down complacently in possession of the car. Several ladles entered at different corners, but there was no movement by the occupants of the seats and the sale was soon filled with strap-clinging females, who lurched about loosely every time a curve was rounded. It has been noticed repeatedly that women never move up in a car to make room for others of their sex, but will sit innocently, nay impudently, staring at the new arrivals as though they were intruders. Usually one woman with her drapertes takes up the room of three men, and there should be a stop put to the practice by the street-car managers. Saturday a scene was witnessed in a Bel Visitors to Soldlers' Home are very pleasantly entertained every evening by the open air concerts given on the porch of the Presi-dent's cottage by the volunteer band of the dent's cottage by the volunteer band of the Home. It was learned by the commandant that many of the inmates had been connected with regimental and other bands during their service in the army, and instruments were procured for their use at the Home. It is a pretty picture now of an afternoon to see the velvety lawn in front of the main building occupied by the old soldiers, while their comrades discourse popular selections from standard operas for their delectation. The drive, too, is fringed with equipages of distinguished people, leading business men and strangers at the capital, all testifying by their presence the appreciation they feel for the efforts of the veterans. One suggestion to the leader of the band must not be taken amiss, and that is, to see that the bass drum is tightened prior to each performance; for at the concert Saturday afternoon harmony, melody and tempo was marred by the rattling sound eveked from the sheepskin by the manipulator of the big drum-stick.

The stairway of the St. Cloud building, on the corner of Ninth and F streets, where the Washington Chess Club meets and other organizations hold forth, extends beyond the building line on Ninth street, immediately adjoining Harry Standiford's drug store, the last few steps occupying a portion of the sidewalk. For years past these steps have been a welcome trysting place for weary wanderers, and have also served as the rent-free meeting place of the ancient and time-honored "Wont-Go-Home-Till-Morning Debating Club and Mutual Ad-miration Seciety." an organization claiming and time-honored "Wont-Go-Home-Till-Morning Debating Club and Mutual Admiration Society," an organization claiming some sort of Indefinite relationship with that of the "Night Doctors." Of late the steps have shown evidence of the severe strain to which they are sometimes subjected, and, as time wore on, the paint wore off. Last Saturday afternoon, however, they were given a new spring suit of bluish-gray paint, and the task of the painter was done with neatness and dispatch before the first members of the "Quit-Work-Early Association," which also meets there, had arrived. Of course the steps looked bright and fresh and more inviting than ever, and before he could be warned of his impending fate, the first victim of misplaced cont-tails had the seat of his summer suit stained with the surfeit of the generously-applied daub. Others followed in quick succession and in the usual order of their attendance upon these openiar meetings, until quite a number of sadder, if not wiser, men wended their way homeward with bottles of turpentine, sponges, &c., to repair the damaged seats and coatalls in time for their Sunday morning duttes. It is needless to add that no meeting of the W.-G.-H.-T.-M.-D.-C. and M. A. Society was held on Saturday evening. ociety was held on Saturday evening.

Congressional Points.

Ex-Congressman Dibrell of Tennessee is considered the strongest Democratic candidate for Governor of that State.

Hale Johnson of Jasper County has been nominated for Congress by the Prohibitionists of the Sixteenth Illinois District. A correspondent of the Lynchburg Virginian nominates Colonel John E. Penn Virginian nominates Colonel John E. Peni of Rosnoke City as Mr. Daniel's successo in the Sixth District.

A Democratic convention will be held in the Nint Kentucky District September 8, to nominate a successor to the present Re-publicas incumbent, Mr. Wadaworth. Colonel J. T. Teel, a member of the Missouri legislature from Lawrence County, announces bimself as a candidate in the Thirteenth District, now represented by Mr. Wade.

It is generally conceded that Mr. Sayers of the Tenth Texas District will have no serious opposition for renomination. The nominating convention will meet at San Antonio July 31.

Representative Hitt of the Sixth Illinois District, who was in Galena last week, found Jo Daviess county practically solld for him. The county convention will be held June 3, and the Congressional convention later at Freen held June 3, and the Congressional conven-tion later at Freeport.

At Saturday's primaries in Pennsylvania the Armstrong County Democrats indorsed Jacob Diehl for Congress; Representative Scott carried Venango; Charles W. Mackey, Erie County, for the Republican nomination, and Thomas Collins, Cambria County for the Democratic nomination.

Wanted to be Arrested. A German named Ernest H. Behier came into Police Headquarters to-day and demanded that the detectives arrest him. He said his boss charged him with stealing a gold watch, and he wanted to be arrested and tried to prove his boss to be a liar. They refused to arrest him.

Judge Davis Much Worse. The condition of Judge David Davis of Bloomington, Ill., is said to be steadily growing worse. Besides a carbuncle, he has Bright's disease and crysipelas has set in. A consultation of physicians is being held over his case to-day, and his death is considered near at hand.

FIFTEEN VETO MESSAGES. President Cleveland to-day sent to the Senate fifteen veto messages. Thirteen of the bills vetoed granted pensions and the other two provided for the erection of pub-lic buildings at Zanesville, Ohio, and Sioux City, Iowa, respectively.

CITY POSTOFFICE SITE. Notwithstanding the efforts of the Hous to consider the City Postoffice and municipal building bills only four members were present to-day. Mr. Dibble had ready a report favoring the present site.

NO MORE SUSPENSION OF RULES According to an agreement reached this morning between Messrs. Carlisle, Morri son and Randall, the latter gentleman was son and Randall, the latter gentleman was recognized by the Speaker immediately after the call of the States for the introduction of bills in order that he might make a motion for the House proceed with the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. By this manoeuvre suspension day was "knocked out" and it is not probable that another suspension day—on which measures reported by Committees can be passed by a two-third's vote—will be reached during the present session. The agreement of Messrs, Carlisle and Morrison to lead their assistance to this scheme is construct as an indication that no further legislation will be possible in the House until after the passage of the appropriation bills. printion bills.

THE TARIFF QUESTION. The published statements of Mr Randall's intention to introduce nandar's intention to introduce a tariff bill to-day, attracted many newspaper men and others to the galleries to watch the Pennsylvanian's movements, but no tariff bill was forthcoming. Mr. Randall refuses to say what, if anything, he has in view on the subject of the tariff.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES. In the Senate to-day Messrs, Logan Plumb and Gorman were appointed conferees on the Army Appropriation bill and a conference was also ordered on the Con-sular and Diplomatic bill.

An effort will be made to have a caucus at 8 o'clock this evening of the one hundred and forty members who voted for the Morrison bill last week. It is understood that the object is to consider a proposition to support a mild tariff bill suggested by Mr. Randall, and to contain principally the provisions of the Hewitt bill, revising the present tariff laws.

At a special meeting of the House Com-mittee on Invalid Pensions this morning it was resolved that the several pension bills be amalgamated and presented if necessary to secure construction with some revenue bill. The committee is very auxious to get these bills before the House.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The President Receives a Number of Callers This Afternoon. The President was not disturbed by callers until 1880 o'clock this afternoon when he came down into the East Room to meet a number of visitors from different parts of the United States. Near the close of the reception a party of ladies approached the President a little tow-headed urchin leading the way. "How do you do, sir?" said the President at the same time patting the boy on the head.
"One of these days I will come to see you when you are President. The boy was full of grit for he came back at the President with "I am afraid I have not a good chance to be Presi-dent," and the attendant matrons were in high glee at the cuteness of their

—J. Seaman of the General Land Office, while down the river on an excursion Saturday, accidentally shot himself in the hand while trying to cock a pistol. The trigger slipped and the bullet, a small one, about the size of a buck-shot, was imbedded in the flesh. On his return to the city Dr. Bowen extracted the ball. The wound is not considered dangerous.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

BASEBALL.

The League games of last week pro duced no change in the relative post tions of the clubs of that organization. Detroit still leads, with Chicago close after. New York keeps third place, but Philadelphia has braced and is keeping near. With the four other clubs it is merely a race for fifth place. Boston now holds it, but any one of the other clubs is likely to capture it. St. Louis comes next, then Kansas Clty, and last the Washingtons. Our nine has somewhat improved its percentage, but it has not been through good playing.

In week before last the Nationals played five games, winning one. They made 19 runs to the same number of their opponents, 33 base-hits to 33, and 24 errors to 27. Last week the Nationals played the same number of games, again winning one. As compared with their opponents their play ing was as follows: H. B. H.

Nationals... 15 35 41 21 12 12 Opponents... 21 48 23 12 19 This table indicates that our nine have fallen off considerably in their play. They made nearly twice as many errors, four less runs, but impany the considerable of th out. 21 12 proved somewhat on their batting. The following table shows the playing of each individual on the nine: PLAYER. GAMES, R. B. H. P. O.

Hines, c. f. . . . 5 Crano, r. f. & i. f. 4 Carroll, l. f. . 4 Baker, 1b. & r. f. . 4 Start, 1b. . . . 4 Knowles, 2b. . 5 Gilligan, c. . 43 Force, 8s. . 5 Gladmon, 3b. . 5 Shaw, p. b. 5 It is here shown that of the 41 errors the batteries made 22, leaving 19 to be made by the field. Of the 55 basehit it is worthy of note that Joe Start made 6 in four games, the highest averag made. Carroll fell off to 1 hit in fou games; Baker the same, while Shaw secured 2 and Ned Crane 3. Little Gilligan obtained 4, while such a slug ger as Hines secured only 6. The light litters took a brace all around, but th luggers did not hold their ground. The ill-fortunes of war seem to have settled upon Detroit's team now, and their previous good luck and the con-fidence it caused and the victories it begot may be at an end for the time being. Sympathy will be expressed for the Wolverines, of course. They deserve it. They have played great ball and carned the position they now hold. If the accidents to Bennett and Rowe are as serious as reported the chances of Detroit winning the pennant are very slim. Ganzel, the new catcher who was secured at Philadelphia, is good man, but he will not fill Bennett shoes. He cannot catch every day, an there is hardly a man on the team who can alternate successfully with him.

Then, again, with Rowe iaid up, there will be a weak spot at short field, and Manning's absence will be felt more severely now. It is "the streak of hard luck" that hits all clubs in turn.

A GREAT RACE PROPOSED. A special race is being arranged for next Puesday at Sheepshead Bay which promises to be the most important event on the turf for many years, not excepting the famous matches between Miss Woodford and Free-land at Monmouth last summer. Mr. Brown, the owner of Troubadour, who won the Suburban, has offered to enter his horse against Miss Woodford or Pontiac and Harnum, and the Coney Island Jockey Club has contributed a purse of $3,000 for the winner. The distance will be one-and-a-half miles. The Dwyer brothers are said to be anxious to run their horses against Troubadour, so that there is every probability that the race will be run.

Raided by Detectives

Detectives Raff and Block and Sergeants Diggins, Atchison and Hore, this morning made a raid on two policy shops and cap tured the proprietors, and also a man for selling Louisiana Lottery tickets. The selling Louisiana Lottery tickets. The house of Emma Thomas, at Sixth and E streets, was visited first. When she saw the officers she opened her immense mouth and took in the papers that were the only evidence that could convict her. Sergeant Diggins grabbed her by the throat and they were finally gotten out of her mouth. Emma Miller of Swinghaumer's alicy was caught writing policy tekets, and after a fight with her, she was taken into custody and locked up with the other woman. The office of W. W. Gould, 1422 Pennsylvania avenue, was visited and a clerk named H. H. Weeden was taken into custody and locked up. A large number of Louisiana Lottery tickets were captured.

Crawford of the New York World utters great truth when he says: "There is a fortune for some enterprising Northern man who will build out on the heights, along the Rock Creek road, a plain country inn where clean, wholesome fare and something to drink could be kept for the great crowds of people who drive out every night to escape the heat of the town."

AN ELECTRIC STREET RAILWAY. A New and Independent Project for the National Capital.

Some enterprising citizens of Washington, headed by S. P. Brown, are endeavoring to secure from Congress authority to construct a railroad through certain streets to be operated exclusively by electricity. They offer to give good and sufficient bonds in the sum of a million of dollars that, if so suthorized, they will within nine months thereafter construct and have in operation two miles of electric rail way somewhere on the designated route between Georgetown and the Navy-Yard. If they fail their privilege is to be wholly forfeited. This scheme has no relation to any other that has been

The projectors say that if they are allowed to demonstrate the practicability of an electric system, the horse railroad companies will see that they can save enough in the cost of motive power in two years to pay for the cost of adopting the electric system on their roads. If the privilege is granted, the corporation will be known as the Washington Central Electric Railroad Washington Central Electric Ralfroad Company. The road will be constructed and equipped by the BertleyKnight Electric Company of New York and the Rhode Island Locomotive Works of Providence.

The company relies on the obvious superiority of the electric system over superiority of the electric system over the horse system, in celerity, cleanli-ness, economy and general efficiency. They say it can be operated for one-third the cost of horse power, and that they will, at the same rates of fare as are now charged, furnish a service in which every modern convenience and luxury shall be enjoyed by the public, including a sufficient number of cars to accommodate travel. accommodate travel.

a Lively Campaign. HOME RULE NOT DOWNED.

Great Preparations Being Made for

Plenty of Campaign Funds and More Coming In.

AMERICA NOT FORGETFUL.

LONDON, June 21 .- The real work of the Parnellites' campaign in England begins this week. The committee on this subject, of which Mr. T. P. O'Connor is chairman, has already done vast amount of preliminary labor in sending out circulars to constituencies which comprise large numbers of Irishmen, and in selecting speakers for the stumping campaign. The principal document sent out to the Irish voters is the great speech made by Mr. Parnell on the last night of the home rule de bate. This has been printed in pamphlet form and nearly 100,000 have been distributed free of cost.

To-morrow the committeemen who are to direct the campaign in York-shire, Lancashire and Northumber-landshire are to start for their various posts. Mr. O'Connor will not make

A PERSONAL CANVASS of the Black Country, as he did last year, but will remain in London, giving general directions to his colleagues in the field and taking active charge of he Irish canvass in the metropolis The campaign in London will be opened next Wednesday by a demonstration at St. James' Hall to advocate the elec-St. James Hall to advocate the elec-tion of Gladstonian members for all the metropolitan districts. It is hoped to return no less than eight Home Role Liberals from the metropolis with the aid of the Irish voters and of the Radical clubs which are now almost with-out exception organized in favor of Home Rule.
IN THE MINING COUNTIES.

In the mining and manufacturing counties it is expected that the Irish vote will be the balance of power by twenty-five constituencies and will carry that number of seats for the Lib-eral Home Rulers which would otherwise be carried, as usual, by Tories.
Mr. Gladstone's Irish allies are thus shown to be doing their full share of the campaign work on British soil, while at the same time they are not asking the Gladstone Committee for any aid in their own campaign at home. In fact, the Parnellites' canvass in Ire-land is so well organized on the lines of the election of 1885, that they conof the election of 1889, that they con-fidently expect to carry every seat which they carried last year, and per-haps to add a few seats from Ulster, where Mr. Gladstone proposes to con-test most of the seats now held by secessionists. The credit for this perfect state of preparation is due, first, to the state of preparation is due, first, to the widespread organization of the Irish National League, and second and more important still, to the lavish gifts of election funds from America.

POLITICAL TALK IN LONDON. Most of the political discussion in London to day has been upon Lord Randolph Churchill's address to his Paddington constituents. He has again sawn off the limb of the tree which supported him, for even the most bigoted Tory could never entrust any leadership to a youth who has the im-pudence to hurl such bumptious and rabid insults at a man who was known and henored as a statesman before Lord Randy was born. He himself describes why his tirade cannot make any impression upon the English, because, as he says, they are "people renowned for common sense." The only place where such fustian can find a market is among the opera bouffe conspirators of Ulster, where it would take even rank with the pronunciamentoes of Major

NEW YORK, June 19.-In respons o invitations issued by Mr. Erastus Wiman, a large number of guests as sembled at Staten Island to-day and inspected the grounds, buildings and im provements of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad Company and of the Staten Island Amusement Company Mr. Winans says that it is a mistake to suppose that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will have the exclusive right of the Arthur Kill Bridge. Other roads can use the bridge under the law by paying proper rentals. There has been some talk that the Pennsylvania and other roads may desire at some time to use the storage facilities of Staten Island, and may, in that case, make use of the bridge. Mr. Wiman says that this is quite possible. He predicts that Staten Island will, in a ew years, be the great depot for New
